Overview

WILD YAK Alps offers you a unique experience as a first step to the Himalaya: the ascent of the highest peak of the Alps: the Mont Blanc which culminates at 4807 m / 15'771 ft.

A real foretaste for your future mountaineering experiences on the high peaks of the Himalayas.

Three days to climb Mont Blanc is the right formula to enjoy this objective and maximize the chances of success.

The program includes two nights in high altitude refuges. The objective is to share the efforts in a coherent way, but also to evolve in the Goûter corridor at the safest moments of the day. No great technical difficulties during these 3 days, but the altitude and the weather sometimes require a good determination.

In addition to the expertise of your guide, your preparation will be your main asset!

Take some time for yourself and enjoy these privileged moments in the mountains.

Feel free to contact us for any further information or for a tailor-made journey. We are happy to advise you by phone or email.

Day 01

Les Houches -> Refuge Tête Rousse, 3167 m

Meeting point in Les Houches

Welcome by our WILD YAK Mountain Guide. Check of material.

With the Mont Blanc Tramway we reach the Nid d'Aigle at 2372 m / 7782 ft. From the Nid d'Aigle, follow the trail that climbs up to the desert of Pierre Ronde and then under the Rognes ridge. From there, it goes along the spur descending from the Aiguille du Goûter to the Tête Rousse hut 3167 m / 10390 ft.

Take a relaxed afternoon before the next day adventure. Enjoy the majestic surroundings.

Overnight at the hut Tête Rousse.

D+: 800 m

Duration of ascent: approx. 3 to 4 hours

■

Day 02

Hut Tête Rousses - Mont Blanc - Hut Goûter, 3835 m

Ascent of the big couloir that we cross before following the ridge at the top of which is the Goûter refuge 3835 m / 12582 ft. After a break in the Goûter hut, we go on in direction of the Dôme du Goûter 4304 m / 14120 ft.

It takes us about 2 hours of glacier walk before reaching reach the Dôme (pass) at 4237 m / 13900 ft, then the Vallot refuge at 4362 m / 14311 ft. From there, we follow the Bosses ridge until the summit of Mont Blanc. Enjoy the fantastic panorama from the top of the highest summit of the Alps as reward for your efforts of the ascent!

We take the same itinerary to descend down to the Goûter hut in the early afternoon.

Night at the Goûter hut.

WILD YAK EXPEDITIONS' PHILOSOPHIE

WILD YAK EXPEDITIONS focuses on security and quality. We believe that this is the best way to guarantee an excellent and relaxed alpine experience.

In addition, we adapt the group size to the conditions in the mountains in order to guarantee the best security for you and our guide. Hence, we benefit from greater flexibility and can better tailor personal support.

TECHNICAL SKILLS REQUIRED

Climbing F (easy) - II and III for the Goûter couloir. If you are used to climbing in the rocks, you will be more at ease in the ascent to the Goûter hut.

Snow and ice slopes of 35° on a very short distance, but with the altitude!

FITNESS LEVEL

A very good physical condition is necessary, to realize the ascent serenely. The challenge comes essentially from the altitude. A preliminary acclimatization is really a plus -> contact us.

MATERIAL & PERSONAL EQUIPMENT

A complete list of material and equipment is communicated, upon your booking.
