Overview

A 4000M ski experience with great views and a rewarding descent!

A great opportunity to discover skiing at 4000 meters with confidence.

In the heart of the Alps, the route to the top of the Strahlhorn offers majestic views of many of the 4000M peaks of the Alps. With no technical difficulties, the Strahlhorn is the perfect summit for ski mountaineers who enjoy long, steady climbs. It is one of the most popular 4000m peaks in the Valais Alps.

WILD YAK EXPEDITIONS offers a day ski touring challenge.

The Strahlhorn can be done with skis from February to May-June depending on the conditions.

WILD YAK EXPEDITIONS offers a 1-day unique experience in the core of the Swiss Alps.

Feel free to contact us for any further information or for a tailor-made journey. We are happy to advise you by phone or email.

Day 01

Saas-Fee -> Strahlhorn -> Saas Fee

Meeting point in Saas Fee

Welcome by our WILD YAK Team, Marcel and Andrea. Check of material.

Early departure for our day-experience.

We take the cable car until Felskinn from where we join the Britanniahütte at 3000 m. A first small descent on the Allalingletscher, before starting our ascent to the Adlerpass at 3789 m. From the pass, the route steepens – and depending on the snow conditions – we climb the last part until the summit either with the skis or crampons. A stunning view of the surrounding four-thousand peaks rewards our climbing efforts.
